Join Power of the Pen and the National Writing Project at Kent State University for a morning of highly engaging sessions to bring out the best in students' writing. Keynote speaker Jeff Harr will address honoring creative writers. The keynote is followed by two breakout sessions of your choice led by NWP-KSU teacher consultants and Power of the Pen coaches.

Ideal for anyone looking for fresh ideas for inspiring student writers; perfect for Power of the Pen coaches.

Jeff Harr has taught middle and high school English for 33 years in the Kent City Schools, advising everything from Power of the Pen to the Drama Guild to girls' basketball. He has been a Teaching Consultant of the NWP at KSU since 2007 and writes plays for teens at Theatrefolk.com. Currently, he teaches in the Expedition Academy, foolishly accompanying 9th and 10th graders—who are in significantly better shape than him – into the mountains on outrageously grueling hikes.
